

Elizabeth T. Mone, Associate

"My practice is focused on protection. With every client, every family, I work hard to understand what is most important to them, and protect it. For some, that means staying in the family home as long as possible. Others may want assistance with leaving behind an estate to benefit children or loved ones. I like making those personal connections. I provide clients with strategic guidance, helping each person understand all options and the potential results. Together, we identify and protect what matters most."
