"In my practice, I offer three critical services to every client. First and foremost, I aim to be a trusted partner. I work with clients to create a team atmosphere between us, and I'm always ready to listen. Second, I am an advisor, analyzing applicable law and informing the client of the full range of potential courses of action and developing a comprehensive strategy to accomplish client goals. Third, I am a relentless advocate for my clients and will tenaciously implement our strategy from the beginning of the representation to its completion."
